Data Retention and Disposal Policy

Middle Claydon Parish Council will hereinafter be known as 'the Council.'

1. Introduction

The Council recognises that the efficient management of its records is necessary to comply with its legal and regulatory obligations and to contribute to the effective overall management of the Parish Council. This policy provides the framework through which this effective management can be achieved and audited.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all records created, received, or maintained by the Council during its operations. Records are defined as all documents that facilitate the business carried out by the Council and are thereafter retained for a set period to provide evidence of its transactions or activities. These records may exist in hard copy or electronically.

A small percentage of the Council's records will be selected for permanent preservation as part of the Council's archives and for historical research.

3. Responsibilities

The Council has a corporate responsibility to maintain its records in accordance with the regulatory environment. The Clerk is responsible for the day-to-day implementation of the policy and for ensuring compliance.

The Clerk will provide guidance for good records management practices and promote compliance with this policy to ensure that information is easily retrievable, appropriately handled, and available in a timely manner.

The Council will only retain data for as long as necessary, in accordance with the lawful basis for processing under GDPR (e.g. legal obligation, public interest, consent).

4. Relationships with Existing Policies

This policy aligns with the following:

- General Privacy Notice
- Data Protection Policy
- Publication Scheme

It also takes into account applicable legislation and regulations, including audit requirements and the Statute of Limitations.

5. Retention Schedule

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, the Council is required to maintain a retention schedule. This outlines the length of time each record series needs to be retained and the action to be taken when a record is no longer needed for administrative use. Staff must manage their current record-keeping systems using the retention schedule and must consider the different retention periods when creating new systems. The retention schedule applies regardless of whether the records are stored electronically or in hard copy. The retention schedule will be reviewed annually to ensure compliance with evolving legal obligations and best practices.

6. Document Retention Protocol

Councils must have systems for documenting their activities in compliance with legal and regulatory environments. These records should:

- Facilitate audit or examination by authorised bodies.
- Protect the legal rights of the Council, clients, and other affected persons.
- Provide proof of individual consent for personal data handling and disposal.
- Ensure authenticity of records, demonstrating their credibility as evidence.

Records must be maintained in systems that ensure quick and easy retrieval, in compliance with GDPR. Documents no longer required for operational purposes but needed for preservation may be archived at the County Records Office.

The retention schedule, detailed in “Appendix A: List of Documents for Retention or Disposal”, provides guidance on minimum retention periods.

If there is a possibility of litigation, affected records must not be disposed of until the threat of litigation has been removed.

7. Data Subject Rights

A data subject has the right to:

- Access their information.
- Correct information they believe to be inaccurate.
- Request the deletion of data.
- Object to the processing of their data.
- Request the transfer of their data to another controller.
- Withdraw consent for the processing of data.
- Lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO).

Data subject requests will be addressed within one month, unless complexity necessitates an extension. A data subject wishing to exercise these rights may contact the Clerk

8. Document Disposal Protocol

- a. Before disposal, documents must be reviewed with the following considerations:
 - Is retention required to meet statutory or regulatory requirements?
 - Is retention necessary for operational needs?
 - Is retention necessary for evidential purposes in case of a dispute?
 - Is the document of historical interest or intrinsic value?

- b. Disposal methods should match the nature and sensitivity of the documents:
 - Non-confidential records: placed in wastepaper bins.
 - Confidential or personal information: shredded.
 - Electronic records: deleted securely to ensure compliance with ICO guidelines.
 - Historical documents: transmitted to the County Records Office.

- c. Principles for disposal:
 - Records containing personal or confidential information must be securely destroyed.
 - Electronic records must be irretrievably deleted.
 - Documents of historical interest may be transmitted to archives for preservation.
 - Backups must also be securely destroyed, unless special provisions apply.

- d. An audit trail of document disposal will be maintained for sensitive records, including logs of dates, methods, and responsible persons.

9. Training and Awareness

Staff involved in handling records will be trained regularly to ensure compliance with this policy, GDPR, and best practices for document management.
